

Summary

Spend your money on the new XJ TDVi and you'll never regret buying British.

A few new bumpers and a subtle makeover might not sway German buyers to the brand, but not to worry. We'll just have to wait for the all-new XF to do that.

For now, the XJ is as British as a roast beef and Yorkshire pudding dinner.

“And, of course, all Jaguar aficionados will love the smell of the leather and walnut wood inserts...”